Congress of the United States

Dear Applicant,

Congratulations on your decision to apply to one of our nation's Service Academies. You have taken the first step in pursuing an exciting, rewarding, and challenging career serving in our Armed Forces. The United States Service Academies offer the best education in the world and the opportunity to serve as a commissioned officer in the United States Armed Forces upon graduation.

As your representative, it is my honor to be a small part of one of our country's oldest traditions by nominating the Hudson Valley's most accomplished and motivated young people for acceptance into a Service Academy. To complete your application to the U.S. Military Academy, the U.S. Naval Academy, the U.S. Air Force Academy, and the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy you must not only meet the admissions requirements for the Academy, you must also receive a Congressional nomination.

I have chosen a Service Academy Selection Board of distinguished and experienced members of our community who will review your application, conduct your interview, and present their recommendations for nomination. This process is extremely competitive with a limited number of nominations available, so I encourage you to apply through other nominating authorities as well, and to consider the U.S. Coast Guard Academy, Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC) programs, and Officer Training Schools, which do not require nominations.

My office will start accepting completed applications on August 17th, 2020 and we must receive all information no later than October 30th, 2020 for those interested in entering one of the Service Academies in the summer of 2021.

No matter how you decide to serve our country, it is an honorable and selfless choice. I am proud to represent you in Congress.

Sincerely,

Sean Patrick Maloney
Member of Congress

- g. Qualifying Medical Exam. The individual academies will recommend the scheduling of medical examinations to the Department of Defense Medical Review Board (DODMRB) after receipt of the pre-applicant questionnaire, which is used to open a pre-admission file at an academy. U.S. Representative Sean Patrick Maloney

Application for Nomination to a U.S. Service Academy

2. BASIS FOR SELECTION

- a. Selections are made competitively on the basis of a combination of academic factors, leadership potential, extra-curricular activities, physical fitness, and letters of recommendation.
 - i. Academic Factors. Competitive applicants for a Service Academy nomination will be considered based on their school records, class rank, grade point average, and standardized test scores (SAT or ACT). Normally competitive applicants will have SAT scores that are above 600 on verbal and 650 on math, or ACT scores above 22 on verbal and 26 on math and will stand in the upper fifth of their class. The higher the applicant's scores and class standing, the greater the chances will be for a nomination, assuming her or she meets or exceeds the qualifications in the remaining areas of consideration.
 - ii. Extra-Curricular Activities. The most competitive applicants will be active in their communities whether at their schools, through volunteer work, or other activities. In particular, Representative Maloney's Service Academy Selection Board looks for highly motivated students who demonstrate leadership ability in their own community.
 - iii. Motivation. One of the most important considerations in the selection process is motivation – the applicant's desire to attend an academy. It is also the most difficult to measure. To an extent, motivation can be judged by a applicant's diligence in completing their file, which is one reason those with incomplete files are not considered for nomination. In addition, applicants are required to write an essay on the reasons for wanting to attend an academy. The essay can be an extremely helpful tool in the review of the application.
 - iv. Leadership and Physical Fitness. Leadership potential and physical fitness are judged from the information provided on the application form. This information should be kept up to date. Unlike civilian colleges, Service Academies place strong emphasis on physical training. In addition, the academies, like civilian colleges and universities, place a high premium on leadership and extra-curricular activities. Therefore, consideration must be given to each applicant's proven ability in these areas. It is strongly recommended that the letters of recommendation and resume highlight any of the applicant's leadership skills.

3. OTHER COMMISSIONING OPTIONS

- a. U.S. Coast Guard Academy. The U.S. Coast Guard Academy is proud to educate leaders of a multi-mission, maritime military force. As a commissioned officer in the Coast Guard, you will be leading a team of men and women who are continually called on to serve their community, country, and fellow citizens.

While the United States Coast Guard is notable as the oldest life-saving service in the world, its roles include more than just Maritime Safety and Security. The Coast Guard is also called upon for critical service in protection of natural resources, maritime mobility (management of maritime traffic, commerce and navigation), and national defense. The U.S. Coast Guard Academy campus is located on the Thames River in New London, Connecticut; the Academy provides a four-year Bachelor of Science degree program with a full scholarship for each individual. Each year, approximately 200 ensigns (or junior officers) are commissioned during graduation exercises in May.

Following graduation, newly commissioned ensigns report for duty aboard cutters and at sector offices in ports nationwide. Graduates of the academy are obligated to serve five years in the U.S. Coast Guard, though many choose to stay and make a rewarding, life-long career of their maritime military service.

The U.S. Coast Guard Academy does not require a nomination from either Representative Maloney or one of the other eligible nominating authorities to be considered for acceptance to the academy.

- b. Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC). A great alternative to academy attendance is one of the Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC) programs offered by the three military services. ROTC is a four year elective program that is offered on many college campuses. The ROTC program also offers full or partial tuition scholarships to qualified students. Completion of a Reserve Officer Training program will result in a commission as a Second Lieutenant or Ensign along with students who graduate from a military academy at the same time.
