Differentiating Novice Skills From Advance Skills

We as men who seek to improve our skills with women are inundated with options when it comes to "dating advice" and "seduction tricks". Find out the difference between "painting by numbers" and real art in this opening discussion on the difference between beginner basics and the deeply ingrained expertise of true masters. Never again mistake "quick fixes" for genuine wisdom.

On Finding Great Women

You've always suspected they are out there, and you are exactly right. The problem is that most men are flat-out unable to recognize truly great women. Stop being "clouded by beauty-vision" and learn to spot a woman with the "whole package".

On Attracting Great Women (Igniting Femininity)

Once you can identify great women, then what? The real truth is that you must be a great man who deserves a great woman. In this program the mystery of what it takes to be that guy (which has confounded men for centuries) is solved. If you have allowed yourself to believe that you are forever doomed to an "average" life with "average" success with women, here's your wake-up call...complete with objective action items that allow you to see real results much faster than you've ever dreamed.

On Objectively Qualifying Women (Choosing vs. Chasing)

In today's culture, it is generally assumed that men do all of the "chasing" while women are afforded the luxury of choice. Learn why this frame of mind actually puts men in a passive role rather than a leadership role. A pox on anyone who thinks today's social structure in the dating world is the pawn of biology--in this program you'll gain a whole new perspective on human nature. You'll learn about a completely objective system for evaluating the women in your life. More importantly, you'll learn how to take back your true power as a man and get back total control of your dating life. No "tips", no "tricks" and no lofty "pie-in-the-sky" promises here. As you'd expect from anything tagged X & Y Communications you'll hear only the hard-hitting truth about portraying yourself as a sought-after man of great worth to women...and therefore becoming a man with real options.

On Defining Great Men

There's a lot of hero worship going on in today's society. Most of it is grossly misplaced. Learn what defines true greatness among men in this audio program and why women simply cannot resist it when they recognize it.

On Becoming A Great Man

Logically following the above segment comes a complete expose on how you can overcome mediocrity and become a man of greatness. Long a favorite subject among business authors, the time has come to give proper attention to how this elusive x-factor can dramatically affect your dating life. Prepare to enter a world so radically different from that of most men that few even know how to imagine what life is like after the amazing transformation that can occur.

Hidden Detractors From Success

It's arguably the most frustrating quandary that just about every man faces at some point: How do you overcome a very real issue that is affecting your ability to attract women when you can't even pinpoint what that issue actually is? In this audio section you'll discover earmarks of and solutions to over fifty potential roadblocks to dating success. Chances are overwhelmingly in your favor that you will gain real visibility into one or more of the enigmatic ways you have been sabotaging your own success with women...until now.

Bonus Track: On Self-Esteem vs. Confidence

Self-esteem and confidence are often considered synonymous...but they are far from it. Can you describe the difference? Moreover, do you have a real handle on the level of each that you personally possess? This concise audio program captures the essence of each all-important concept and arms you with wisdom that may once and for all unleash the man of well-rounded character within. Great women will settle for nothing less, and neither should you.

Bonus Track: Free Yourself From The Need To Impress Women

Several months ago during an interview for Power Sessions, Amy Waterman coined the phrase "Presence vs. Performance" when describing what women want from a man on a first date...and beyond. In this brief audio segment you'll gain a clear perspective on the meaning of this phrase and how dramatic an effect it can have on your success with women. This will be a wake up call to men all over the world who have made a habit of trying to impress women. Learn the secret to being vs. doing-and by doing so eliminate "neediness" while making some great women very happy.

Growing Up But Not Old: Why All Women Love What Happens To Men Around Age

Featuring AJ & Jordan (Pickup Podcast)

Jordan and AJ came out of seemingly nowhere this past January as co-hosts of the Pickup Podcast show, which has since become a runaway hit topping the major category of "Health" on iTunes. Any guy who has heard the show can quickly figure out why. These guys bring a masculine presence and straight-up attitude to their craft that is undeniable. Listening to them run game on their show, there is no doubt these two can walk the talk. What is even more valuable is how they impart their considerable knowledge and skill in a confident yet never arrogant manner--and it's this sense that you're dealing with two genuinely cool guys which flat-out compels guys to tune in week after week. Having been a guest on Pickup Podcast myself, it was especially thrilling to have Jordan and AJ stop by and focus in on the topic I've been dying for them to uniquely address: What is it that happens to a guy in his late twenties to early thirties that really firms up his attractiveness to women? AJ and Jordan consistently demonstrate that they have this stuff down pat, so all of you younger guys out there can actually get a head start on what is going on there and how to make it happen ASAP...without actually having to get any older just yet.

Secrets To Success With Women For Men Over 40

Featuring Brent Smith (Absolute Power Dating)

Insiders in the Seduction Community point to Brent as one of the few guys who truly has the kind of "game" that most men only dream of. Like Will H., Brent is a fixture on David D.'s programs, once coining the now famous and immutably ironic mantra that resonates so well with any guy who understands it: "The difference that makes the difference is indifference".

Having recently celebrated his 42nd birthday, Brent was my number one go-to guy when considering who to invite for this discussion. And let me tell you, there are no disappointments. As he concentrates much of his energy on direct coaching, Brent is one of those guys whose material is just way to hard for most guys to get their hands on. As such, I'm very pleased to have him on as a part of VIRTUOSITY. If you have only heard rumors of how on-point Brent is, this discussion is sure to blow you away. And even if you aren't exactly over forty just yet, take my word for it...you'll be taking reams of notes based on what this guy has to offer. You just don't get this kind of wisdom from your garden-variety press interview.

Sean's life work surrounds helping men, women and even kids get over whatever they believe is holding them back in life. If you enjoy dwelling in the shadow of your doubts, don't listen to this program. On the other hand, if you are all about doing away with self-doubt, this audio is sure to inspire you to kick every obstacle in your imagination out of your way for good. Amazingly, Robert has demonstrated an ability to not only attract such women but to date them long-term when he has chosen to do so. ## Authenticity Featuring Decker (Authentic SF)

We as guys are always told to "be ourselves" when it comes to attracting women. But what does that really mean? And what if women flat-out fail to respond favorably when we make an honest effort at "being ourselves"? If you have ever been haunted by this concept you are certainly not alone. Just about every man wrestles with this in a major way, and if you are one of them then Decker is your man. His recent interview with David DeAngelo was one of the most powerful I've heard in recent memory. Upon listening to it I knew immediately that inviting him to be a part of VIRTUOSITY was a must.

Combating Guilt And Shame

Featuring Bryan Bayer (Authentic SF)

Whether it's due to past experiences and/or faulty social programming, a staggering number of us as men are haunted on a daily basis by shame and guilt. A man's sexual nature, his social status and indeed his very masculinity are often at play here. Tragically, such "head games" we play with ourselves not only limit our success with women, they rob us of the opportunity to be at our best with the women who are in our lives. For this powerful discussion I am joined by Brian Bayer, who is co-founder with fellow VIRTUOSITY guest Decker of the Authentic Man Program. Pay careful attention as Bryan helps you systematically diffuse these insidious psychological forces that are at war against your success with women.

Ultimate Body Language And Eye-Contact

Featuring Cory Skyy (Badboy With A Heart)

Cory Skyy's teachings are controversial, no doubt. Considering he firmly believes in a man's ability to attract women to himself without even saying anything, that's understandable. But that's the thing about the skills and mindsets that contribute to the very highest level of success with women--the results so transcend what the average man even deems possible that the ideas and strategies involved are often passed off as pure hype. There are few guys in the world of men's seduction advice who would even dare talk about what is discussed in this particular audio program. But rest assured...if you can get your head around the information shared you will find yourself not just on another plane but in an entirely new dimension with women. You are about to experience "attraction" and "seduction" from a mind-blowing new perspective. Perhaps ironically, this is likely the way it was meant to be and the way women most want it to be.

Online Dating Domination

(Note: This is the full, unedited version of what is included in the stand-alone Online Dating Domination system at www.onlinedatingdomination.com )

Online Dating Domination Video

How To Build An Online Dating Profile That Gets Results

In this video you'll be treated to over forty-minutes of non-stop practical strategy on how exactly to build a profile that flat-out gets you in front of more women. Using my own unedited Match.com profile as a template, I'll walk you step-by-step through every nuance of why this profile helped me enjoy up to an eighty percent response rate from women up until the time I finally retired it. Having spent over three full years fine-tuning what you are about to see, consider yourself on the "gravy train" to not having to spend that kind of time performing "trial and error" tweaks on your own. Best of all, I'll show you precisely why every component of the overall profile worked to produce such excellent results. That way, you'll be able to customize your profile to perfectly suit your own style and personality, using the principles I teach you as a guide. Be sure to watch this video several times so you don't miss any details--it's non stop action all the way with no "fluff" whatsoever. It's the perfect way to visualize exactly what Online Dating Domination is all about.

Online Dating Domination (Part One)

Building The Framework For Becoming The Most Successful Man At Online Dating In Your Entire City

It doesn't matter how tall you are. Or how rich you are. You don't even have to be all that good looking. In fact, you're about to find out how some guys online actually--and disastrously--transform self-perceived strength into abject weakness without even realizing it. All of this is to your advantage as a man who knows exactly how to bypass online dating's notoriously slippery learning curve and instead rocket to the head of the pack. Forget playing the "numbers game" and measuring your progress with a yardstick of "relative success". Realize response rates to the e-mails you send that approach up to 80%. Turn the lion's share of those responses into real dates...without enduring long waits and endless "tests". Best of all, be the mastermind behind an online presence so compelling that the sharpest women (who refuse to wait around for what they want) actually begin to write you first. Recognize the great women. Weed out the wrong ones. Know what to do when you've gotten the attention of your very first choice of all the women out there...without blowing it. Best of all, learn how to do this over and over again until you have--quite literally--won the intrigue, curiosity and even the admiration of the vast majority of the women you choose. While a faceless throng of other guys unsuccessfully fling desperate e-mails at the sharp women you have probably already met--only to never get a single answer--you'll be busy deciding whether to fit a second date with them into your schedule. Sound like a dream world? It is...but in this case it's a very real one that you can wake up to sooner than you can imagine. This is all made possible for you, in part, because most men fail at online dating. You won't.

Online Dating Domination (Part Two)

Practical Steps To Ultimate Online Dating Success

In the second half of my epic 2.5 hour session on the core principles of Online Dating Domination, expect to learn expert level skills in weeding out fake and/or poisonous profiles even as you project eminent authenticity from your own profile as a man of confidence and extreme quality. Become acquainted with brand new concepts and strategies that revolutionize everything from crafting a user name to handling multiple accounts on different sites. Discover keys to long-distance relationships that have been kept under lock and key by the most experienced and effective guys online for years...until now. By the time you have finished listening to both parts of this program you will possess an arsenal of knowledge and wisdom so advanced that your profile will literally capture the hearts and minds of especially fantastic women, even as every e-mail you send underscores your desirability to them.

From E-mail To The Phone To The First Meeting

Strategies For Meeting The Maximum Number Of Women As Soon As Possible

Without a clearly articulated and field-tested plan for transitioning from the first contact e-mail to actually meeting women, most guys are easily lured into a vortex of endless "back and forth" e-mails (often with several precious days passing in between) or even long-term banishment to the "Instant Messaging Back Burner". Getting women on the telephone can be an overwhelming challenge—which in and of itself is no guarantee that an actual meeting will ever happen. Fortunately, effective time-management when it comes to online dating communication is a skill that you can acquire with minimal effort, and the payoff for doing so is staggering. Upon listening to this audio program and adopting the straightforward principles shared in it, you'll be able to know what is going on inside a woman's head whom you've just contacted and execute accordingly. Move from e-mail to the phone and then to the first meeting quickly and without drama by removing obstacles and creating rapport at a level that virtually zero other men comprehend. The end result? Quite simply, the plan presented in this program is the "silver bullet" when it comes to meeting more women in record time than any other man in your metro area can possibly keep pace with.

Mastering The System

Leverage How An Online Dating Site Works To Your Full Advantage

In this eye-opening audio session you can expect to learn hidden secrets of how sites like Match.com and others work. Knowledge is power, and with this privileged information you will gain a clear edge over other guys as you begin to dominate your metro area online. In this rapid-fire program you will be invited into the "inner sanctum" where only select few guys consistently and effectively take full advantage of the inner mechanics of online dating sites. Find out the ingenious keys to appearing at the top of women's search results even as you effortlessly ensure that the finest examples of your type of women in your metro area show up in your search results without fail. Discover how true masters of online dating strategy gather the attention of the highest echelon of women in record time...and often without even having paid a single penny for the experience. On top of all else, you'll discover how an online dating site can even equip you with the very tools necessary to assess your own online dating performance and make crucial adjustments based on real-world information. This program is an absolute must for the guy who is serious about separating himself from the herd of frustrated guys online.
